Choix du libre accès

Open Access
This journal gives you the option to publish your article on an open access basis under a CC BY licence.

Why choose open access?

- Open access articles are accessible to subscribers and non-subscribers, maximising visibility.
- Open access articles are downloaded and cited more frequently than non-open access articles on average.
- Open access publication may enable you to comply with certain funder policies.

Open Access Pricing
An article publication charge (APC) applies if you choose open access and your article is accepted for publication following independent peer review. You can visit our paying for open access pages or ask your institution/funder to see if financial support is available for open access publication.

Authors based in countries categorised by the World Bank as low income can publish open access in this journal with no APC. Eligible low-income countries (Group A) are listed on this page.

Will my institution pay my fees?
We have open access agreements with institutions and funders that may cover applicable APCs at no cost to you. To see if your institution has an agreement that covers this journal, please check via our website or with your librarian. Whichever option you choose below, IOP Publishing will investigate whether you are eligible for funding and if we identify that you are, we will contact you to let you know.

 Do you wish to choose open access for your article?
Please supply the relevant detail to qualify for discounted rates.

Open Access Choice	Additional
<input type="radio"/> No , I do not wish to choose open access (your article will be accessible to subscribers only)
<input type="radio"/> Yes : I acknowledge that there is an article publication charge payable if my article is accepted (unless all authors are based in low-income countries).
<input type="radio"/> Yes : I acknowledge that there is an article publication charge payable if my article is accepted, and I will claim a reviewer discount of 10%. Enter the ID of the IOP Publishing article you have reviewed.	<input type="text"/>

Peu importe l'option libre accès choisi à ce stade, IOP identifiera toujours si un article est éligible à un accord transformatif.

Si l'article est éligible à l'entente, nous contacterons les auteurs pour la correspondance et désignerons l'article pour la publication en libre accès selon l'entente.

L'option indiqué à ce stade ne s'applique que si l'article n'est pas éligible.

Nous recommandons de sélectionner 'non' à ce stade afin de ne pas occasionner des frais si l'article n'est pas éligible une raison ou une autre.

Dear Example Salutation,

Re: "Example Article"

Article reference: Example Article Id

IOP Publishing, our publishing partner and your institution/funder have an open access agreement that promotes sustainable open access and may cover the article publication charge (APC) for your paper in Example Journal1.

We have therefore made your article open access to take advantage of this agreement, and it will be published with a CC-BY license. Please choose the Gold Open Access option when completing your Assignment of Copyright form.

Where any additional charges are payable for publication including, but not limited to, page charges, these remain payable by the Corresponding Author or Author's representative organisation.

If you do not want to publish your article open access, you will need to opt out prior to acceptance by notifying openaccesscharging@iopublishing.org.

Visit our Open Physics website to learn more about the ways we are supporting open access to enable wider and faster access to physical sciences research.

The screenshot shows the IOPscience website header with navigation links for Journals, Books, and Publishing Support. A prominent link reads "Ukraine: Click here to read IOP Publishing's statement". The main content area is titled "Researchers from institutions within the Canadian Research Knowledge Network (CRKN)" and details a transformative agreement. It states that IOP Publishing (IOP) has a transformative agreement with the Canadian Research Knowledge Network (CRKN) to enable a transition towards open access publishing. Current students, staff, or faculty of a CRKN institution can take advantage of this agreement. For articles accepted from 15 December 2021 onwards, all eligible articles can be published on an open access basis at no cost to authors. All IOP and many partner journals that offer hybrid or gold open access options are included in the agreement. A link is provided for a list of eligible journals. The agreement includes journals in List A, B, C, and D. Please note that while the Article Publication Charge (APC) is covered, the page charge or publication fee unrelated to open access are not included in our open access agreements.

How to take advantage of the agreement

This process applies to all primary research article types, including Letters, Papers, Reviews and Special Issue articles.

- 1. Submission
The corresponding (submitting) author must be affiliated to a CRKN institution (listed below). When you submit your article, please supply your affiliation clearly in the article submission form for identification. Please also acknowledge any research funding if asked during submission as well as in the manuscript itself.
- 2. At first decision
If your article is identified you will be notified during the peer-review process or shortly after acceptance, and your paper will automatically be opted in to open access. You'll be asked to agree to the CC-BY open access licence.
- 3. Publication
Your paper will be published open access under a CC-BY license at no cost to you. You can share it as you wish and the article will comply with funder mandates.

If you have not been alerted before your article is accepted, please contact the journal to ensure that your work is included in the arrangement.
